Reader's note

The Information document on ratifications and standards-related activities (Report III (Part 2)) provides an overview of developments in international labour standards during 2015. It supplements the information contained in the report of the Committee of Experts on the Application of Conventions and Recommendations (Report III) (Part 1A). Part I provides general information on recent developments concerning international labour standards, constitutional and other procedures in relation to the supervision of standards, and technical assistance in the field of standards. Part II provides information on the ratification of individual Conventions and Protocols in table format. Part III contains “country profiles” which bring together information on the ratification and application of Conventions and on the submission of instruments adopted by the International Labour Conference to the competent authorities in a table format by country.

Part I. General information on international labour standards

Standards policy

A. Improvements to standards-related activities

1. Developments arising from the discussions in the Governing Body

Standards policy and the ILO standards initiative

1. The ILO Declaration on Social Justice for a Fair Globalization, 2008, states that the Organization must promote its standard-setting policy as a cornerstone of its activities by enhancing its relevance to the world of work, and ensures the role of standards as a useful means of achieving the constitutional objectives of the Organization.

2. In November 2010, there was consensus in the Governing Body that the ILO standards policy involved the following components:

- ❑ the determination of the best means for keeping the body of standards up to date;
- ❑ the identification of standards in need of revision or other action;
- ❑ the identification of up-to-date standards, and their promotion;
- ❑ the determination of new subjects and approaches for standard setting; and
- ❑ the preparation and adoption of standards.

3. In November 2011, the Governing Body agreed to the establishment of a Standards Review Mechanism (SRM) to contribute to the implementation of the ILO standards policy as set forth in the Social Justice Declaration and to consolidate tripartite consensus on the role of international labour standards in achieving the ILO's objectives. The overall objective of the SRM is to ensure that the ILO has a clear, robust and up-to-date body of international labour standards that responds to the changing patterns of the world of work, for the purpose of the protection of workers and taking into account the needs of sustainable enterprises. In its report to the 102nd Session (2013) of the Conference, the Director-General proposed, as part of the ILO centenary initiatives, the standards initiative "to consolidate tripartite consensus on an authoritative supervisory system and to enhance the relevance of international labour standards through a Standards Review Mechanism".¹

¹ ILO: Towards the ILO centenary: Realities, renewal and tripartite commitment, Report of the Director-General, International Labour Conference, 102nd Session, Geneva, 2013, Report I(A), para. 155(2).

4. At its 323rd Session (March 2015), in the framework of its discussion concerning the standards initiative, the Governing Body:

- (e) decided to establish under the Standards Review Mechanism (SRM) a tripartite working group composed of 32 members: 16 representing Governments, eight representing Employers and eight representing Workers to meet once per year for one week;
- (f) requested the Director-General to prepare draft terms of reference for the tripartite SRM working group for its consideration and submission to the 325th Session of the Governing Body (October–November 2015) for decision;
- (g) decided that this tripartite SRM working group would report to the Governing Body at its 325th Session in October–November 2015 on progress made in the implementation of the SRM;
- (h) requested the Chairperson of the Committee of Experts on the Application of Conventions and Recommendations (CEACR), Judge Abdul Koroma (Sierra Leone), and the Chairperson of the Committee on Freedom of Association (CFA), Professor Paul van der Heijden (Netherlands), to jointly prepare a report, to be presented to the 326th Session of the Governing Body (March 2016), on the interrelationship, functioning and possible improvement of the various supervisory procedures related to articles 22, 23, 24 and 26 of the ILO Constitution and the complaints mechanism on freedom of association;²

5. Following tripartite consultations in October 2015, at its 325th Session (October–November 2015), the Governing Body: approved the terms of reference of the SRM Tripartite Working Group; appointed Mr Jan Farzan (Germany) as Chairperson of the Working Group; convened two meetings of the SRM Tripartite Working Group in 2016, one prior to its 326th Session and the other prior to its 328th Session; and decided to undertake an initial evaluation of the functioning of the SRM Tripartite Working Group no later than March 2017. During the tripartite consultations, it was agreed that the SRM Tripartite Working Group's programme of work would be addressed in its first meeting in February 2016.

Other standards-related activities

Choice of Conventions and Recommendations on which reports should be requested under article 19 of the Constitution

6. At its 325th Session (October–November 2015), the Governing Body decided that governments should be requested to submit reports under article 19 of the Constitution: (a) on the instruments on working time in 2017; (b) on the Social Protection Floors Recommendation, 2012 (No. 202), in 2018. The Governing Body also requested the Office to prepare: (a) the report form concerning the instruments on working time for consideration at its 326th Session (March 2016); (b) the report form concerning the Social Protection Floors Recommendation, 2012 (No. 202), for consideration at its 328th Session (November 2016).

2. Enhanced access to the standards system and broader visibility

7. The Department's databases, NORMLEX (on international labour standards) and NATLEX (on national labour legislation), have continued to be the most visited databases in the ILO, both internally and externally. Recent statistics showed that

² The full text of the decision can be found at: www.ilo.org/gb/decisions/GB325-decision/lang--en/index.htm.

NORMLEX had an average of 90,000 users per month, with 120,000 sessions translating into 340,000 page views monthly. As for NATLEX, for which a redesign public application with a modern interface was launched in early 2015, more than 3,400 new entries were made in the database for 2015, an average of around 280 per month. Regarding the implementation of NORMES' online reporting system, it should be recalled that, after a trial period, the system was extended to all ILO member States wishing to use this new facility for the 2015 reporting exercise. Twenty-five countries chose to use this online reporting system in 2014 and a few more in 2015.

8. In terms of dissemination of international labour standards, NORMES produced several publications in 2015 such as a Compilation of International Labour Conventions and Recommendations (available in English, French and Spanish), a second revised edition of the Compendium of Maritime Labour Instruments (available in English, French and Spanish), a fourth revised edition of the Frequently asked questions related to the Maritime Labour Convention (available in English, French and Spanish), a booklet entitled "The story of the ILO's Promotion of the Cooperatives Recommendation, 2002 (No. 193)". In the context of one of the areas of critical importance identified by the ILO, the Department also produced a study entitled: Unacceptable forms of work and serious gaps identified by the ILO supervisory bodies in the implementation of ILO Conventions: contextualization and analysis of prominent cases. Furthermore, since 2015, the reports of the CEACR are also available in three electronic formats, to enable their access via tablets and smart phones.

3. Instrument of Amendment to the ILO Constitution of 1997

9. The 1997 instrument for the amendment of the ILO Constitution, the purpose of which is to enable the Conference to abrogate Conventions that have become obsolete, entered into force on 8 October 2015 as the Director-General registered the instrument of acceptance by the Cook Islands.³ The Governing Body, at its October–November 2015 session, decided to place on the agenda of the Conference in 2017 the question of the abrogation of the Night Work (Women) Convention, 1919 (No. 4); the Minimum Age (Trimmers and Stokers) Convention, 1921 (No. 15), the Protection against Accidents (Dockers) Convention, 1929 (No. 28), the Night Work (Women) Convention (Revised), 1934 (No. 41), Minimum Age (Non-Industrial Employment) Convention (Revised), 1937 (No. 60) and the Hours of Work and Rest Periods (Road Transport) Convention, 1939 (No. 67).

B. Agenda of future sessions of the International Labour Conference

10. The agenda of the Conference consists of standing and ad hoc items. The following standing items are required to be included by the Governing Body on the Conference agenda each year:

- reports of the Chairperson of the Governing Body and of the Director-General;
- financial and budgetary questions; and
- information and reports on the application of Conventions and Recommendations.

11. It has also become the practice to include on the Conference agenda three technical items to be examined, either with a view to a general discussion or with a view to standard setting. For standard-setting items, while a double discussion remains the norm, the Governing Body may decide to hold a single discussion. The technical items to be placed on the agenda of the Conference are considered at two successive sessions of the Governing Body.

12. The ILO Declaration on Social Justice for a Fair Globalization, 2008, and its Follow-up, introduced a scheme of recurrent discussions by the Conference to understand better the diverse realities and needs of Members of the Organization with respect to each of the ILO strategic objectives, respond more effectively to them using all the means of action available, and adjust priorities and programmes of action accordingly. The Governing Body decided that recurrent discussions would follow a seven-year cycle, with employment, fundamental principles and rights at work, and social protection being discussed twice during the cycle and social dialogue once.

13. The current seven-year cycle will be completed with the second recurrent item discussion on fundamental principles and rights at the 106th Session (2017) of the Conference.

14. At its 322nd Session (November 2014), the Governing Body adopted the concept of a strategic and coherent approach to the setting of the Conference agenda for the 106th (2017), 107th (2018) and 108th (2019) Sessions of the Conference, having regard in particular to the following elements: the window of opportunity provided by the preparation of the centenary session of the Conference (2019), enhanced coherence between the Conference agenda and other processes that contribute to the strategic orientation of the ILO, the building of tripartite ownership and the need to ensure adequate flexibility in the selection of Conference agenda items.⁴ At its 323rd Session (March 2015), it provided further guidance on the implementation of the strategic and coherent approach, including a procedural roadmap for the setting of the Conference agenda. At its 325th Session (October–November 2015), the Governing Body decided:

- (a) to complete the agenda of the 106th Session (June 2017) of the Conference by placing an item on labour migration with a view to a general discussion;
- (b) to place a standard-setting item on “Violence against women and men in the world of work” on the agenda of the 107th Session (June 2018) of the Conference;
- (c) to convene a tripartite meeting of experts to provide guidance on which basis the Governing Body will consider, at its 328th Session (November 2016), the preparations for the first discussion of possible instruments by the Conference.

The Governing Body also decided:

- (a) to provisionally place an item on the approval of the proposed amendments to the Code of the Maritime Labour Convention, 2006, on the agenda of the 105th Session (June 2016) of the Conference, subject to the submission of any amendments adopted by the Special Tripartite Committee in February 2016, along with the adoption of amendments to the annexes to the Seafarers’ Identity Documents Convention (Revised), 2003 (No. 185), as proposed by the Ad Hoc Tripartite Maritime Committee in February 2016;
- (b) to place on the agenda of the 106th Session (June 2017) of the conference an item on the abrogation of Conventions Nos 4, 15, 28, 41, 60 and 67.

15. At its 325th Session (October–November 2015), the Governing Body also decided to defer the decision on a new cycle of recurrent discussions to its session in June 2016 or to its session in November 2016 to await the evaluation of the impact of the Social Justice Declaration by the Conference at its session in June 2016.

Constitutional and other procedures

A. Measures taken under article 26 of the ILO Constitution

Fiji

16. At its 319th Session (October 2013), the Governing Body decided that the article 26 complaint brought by some Workers' delegates to the 102nd Session (2013) of the International Labour Conference against the Government of Fiji for non-observance of the Freedom of Association and Protection of the Right to Organise Convention, 1948 (No. 87), was receivable. At its 320th Session (March 2014), in the light of the continuing concerns regarding the trade union situation in Fiji, the Governing Body: (i) called once again on the Government of Fiji to accept the ILO direct contacts mission under the previously agreed terms of reference, which were based on the conclusions and recommendations of the ILO Committee on Freedom of Association on Case No. 2723; and (ii) decided that, if the direct contacts mission did not take place in time for a report to its 322nd Session (November 2014), then the 322nd Session should appoint a commission of inquiry under article 26 of the ILO Constitution. The direct contacts mission, led by Judge Abdul G. Koroma, took place from 7 to 11 October 2014. Taking into account the information contained in the report of the direct contacts mission in November 2014, the Governing Body deferred again the decision on the appointment of a commission of inquiry and invited the Government to provide follow-up information on the complaint.

17. On 25 March 2015, a Tripartite Agreement was signed in Geneva by the Government of the Republic of Fiji, the Fiji Trades Union Congress (FTUC) and the Fiji Commerce and Employers' Federation (FCEF). The Tripartite Agreement acknowledged that the review of labour laws, including the Employment Relations Promulgation, was to be conducted under the Employment Relations Advisory Board to ensure compliance with the ILO core Conventions and with a view to submitting a bill to Parliament, to be approved and implemented by the end of October 2015. Pursuant to the Tripartite Agreement, the Governing Body in March 2015 requested the Government and the social partners to submit a joint implementation report to its 324th Session (June 2015). Two separate reports were submitted on 2 June 2015 – one by the Government and the FCEF and another one by the FTUC – and on 15 October 2015 – one by the Government, representatives of the employers including the FCEF and a workers' representative (the Fiji Electricity Workers' Association) and another implementation report by the FTUC. Regretting the continuing failure to submit a joint implementation report, the Governing Body: (a) called on the Government of Fiji to accept a tripartite mission to review the ongoing obstacles to the submission of a joint implementation report and consider all matters pending in the article 26 complaint; (b) decided that, if the tripartite mission did not take place in time for a report to the 326th Session of the Governing Body (March 2016), then the 326th Session should take a decision on the appointment of a commission of inquiry under article 26; and (c) placed this question on the agenda of its 326th Session.

Guatemala

18. In a statement addressed to the 101st Session of the Conference (June 2012), ten Workers' delegates filed a complaint under article 26 of the ILO Constitution against the Government of Guatemala for non-observance of the Freedom of Association and Protection of the Right to Organise Convention, 1948 (No. 87). After declaring the complaint receivable at its 316th Session (November 2012), the Governing Body decided at its 317th Session (March 2013) to defer, until its 319th Session (October 2013), the decision on the appointment of a commission of inquiry to examine the complaint. The decision of the Governing Body was based on the Memorandum of Understanding signed on 26 March 2013 by the Workers' group of the ILO Governing Body and the Government of Guatemala. Pursuant to the Memorandum of Understanding, an ILO representation was established in Guatemala at the beginning of July 2013, and it was agreed that a high-level tripartite mission would visit Guatemala to monitor compliance with the Memorandum of Understanding.

19. At its 319th Session (October 2013), the Governing Body decided once again to defer, until its 320th Session (March 2014), the decision on the appointment of a commission of inquiry, based on the conclusions of the high-level tripartite mission which visited Guatemala from 23 to 27 September 2013 and also on the roadmap adopted by the Government of Guatemala in consultation with the social partners of the country with a view to expediting the application of the abovementioned Memorandum of Understanding.

20. At its 320th, 322nd and 323rd Sessions (in March 2014, November 2014 and March 2015, respectively), the Governing Body decided once again to defer the decision on the appointment of a commission of inquiry, based on the information provided by the Guatemalan tripartite constituents regarding the implementation of the Memorandum of Understanding, the roadmap as well as in the reports of various missions conducted by the International Labour Standards Department of the ILO. At its 325th Session (October–November 2015), in view of the information communicated by the Guatemalan Government and workers' and employers' organizations, and, in particular, noting the request made by the Tripartite Committee on International Labour Affairs and the President of the Republic to extend the presence and strengthen the action of the Special Representative of the Director-General for Guatemala in the country, the Governing Body decided to once again defer, until its 326th Session (March 2016), the decision on whether to establish a commission of inquiry. In addition, the Governing Body: (i) urged the Government to take, without delay, all the measures necessary to fully implement the roadmap, including measures to address the priority areas that continued to require additional and urgent action; (ii) urged the Government to provide information on follow-up given to the key indicators agreed by the Guatemalan tripartite constituents in May 2015; and (iii) invited the tripartite constituents of Guatemala to agree with the Office by the end of 2015 on the nature of an expanded mandate for the ILO representative in the country.

Qatar

21. At the 103rd Session of the International Labour Conference, the Director-General of the International Labour Office received a communication dated 12 June 2014, signed by 12 Workers' delegates, filing a complaint under article 26 of the ILO Constitution against the Government of Qatar for violation of the Forced Labour Convention, 1930 (No. 29), and the Labour Inspection Convention, 1947 (No. 81).

22. The complaint states that the problem of forced labour affects the migrant worker population of roughly 1.5 million. From the moment migrant workers begin the process of seeking work in Qatar, they are drawn into a highly exploitative system that facilitates the exaction of forced labour by their employers. This includes practices such as contract substitution, recruitment fees (for which many take out large, high-interest loans) and passport confiscation. The complaint also states that the Government fails to maintain a legal framework sufficient to protect the rights of migrant workers consistent with international law and to enforce the legal protections that currently do exist. Finally, the complaint states that there has been little progress on ensuring that laws and practices are brought into conformity with Convention No. 29 and Convention No. 81.

23. At its 322nd Session (November 2014), the Governing Body, acting upon the recommendation of its Officers who had concluded that the complaint was receivable, requested the Director-General to transmit the complaint to the Government and to invite it and the employers' and workers' organizations of Qatar to provide their observations on the complaint by 31 January 2015. The Governing Body also deferred the decision to establish a commission of inquiry to its 323rd Session (March 2015).⁵

24. An invitation was extended by the Ministry of Labour and Social Affairs, on behalf of the Government of Qatar, on 16 January 2015 to the International Labour Standards Department to undertake a high-level mission to the country. This mission took place from 7 to 11 February 2015.

25. At its 323rd Session (March 2015), in light of the information provided by the Government in a communication dated 26 January 2015, the information contained in the high-level mission report, as well as discussions that had taken place in the Governing Body, the latter decided: (a) to request the Government of Qatar to submit to the Governing Body for consideration at its 325th Session (October–November 2015), information on action taken to address all the issues raised in the complaint; (b) to defer further consideration of the establishment of a commission of inquiry until the 325th Session (October–November 2015) of the Governing Body, in light of the information referred to in paragraph (a) above.⁶

26. At its 325th Session (October–November 2015), and in light of the reports submitted by the Government on measures taken to address the issues raised in the complaint, the Governing Body decided to request the Government of Qatar to receive a high-level tripartite visit before the 326th Session (March 2016), to assess all the measures taken to address all the issues raised in the complaint. The Governing Body also decided to defer further consideration on setting up a commission of inquiry until its 326th Session (March 2016), in light of the information referred to above.

Bolivarian Republic of Venezuela

27. At the 104th Session of the Conference (June 2015), in a communication dated 13 June 2015, 20 Employers' delegates filed a complaint under article 26 of the ILO Constitution against the Government of the Bolivarian Republic of Venezuela for violation of the Minimum Wage-Fixing Machinery Convention, 1928 (No. 26), the Freedom of Association and Protection of the Right to Organise Convention, 1948 (No. 87), and the Tripartite Consultation (International Labour Standards) Convention, 1976 (No. 144). At its 325th Session (October–November 2015), the Governing Body, acting upon the recommendation of its Officers who had concluded that the complaint was receivable, requested the Director-General to transmit the complaint to the Government inviting it to communicate its observations on the complaint and placed this item on the agenda of the 326th Session of the Governing Body (March 2016).

B. Representations submitted under article 24 of the ILO Constitution

28. Representations may be filed under article 24 of the Constitution by industrial associations of employers or workers, alleging that a member State that has ratified a Convention has failed to secure within its jurisdiction the effective observance of that Convention. Once declared receivable, representations are examined by a tripartite committee established by the Governing Body. The table below indicates the recent developments as regards representations.

C. Special procedure concerning freedom of association

29. At its last meetings (March, June and November 2015), the Committee on Freedom of Association had before it more than 203 cases concerning 60 countries from all parts of the world, for which it presented interim or final conclusions, or for which the examination was adjourned pending the arrival of information from governments (374th, 375th and 376th Reports). Many of these cases have been before the Committee on Freedom of Association on more than one occasion. Moreover, seven new cases have been submitted to it since the last meeting of the Committee of Experts. The Committee on Freedom of Association has drawn the attention of the Committee of Experts to the legislative aspects of Cases Nos 2786 (Dominican Republic), 2970 (Ecuador), 3004 (Chad), 3025 (Egypt), 3029 (Plurinational State of Bolivia), 3044 (Croatia) and 3113 (Somalia).

Technical assistance and cooperation

A. Follow-up missions to the conclusions adopted by the Conference at its recent sessions

Bangladesh

30. At the 103rd Session (June 2014) of the International Labour Conference, the Committee on the Application of Standards (Conference Committee) discussed the application of the Labour Inspection Convention, 1949 (No. 81), and invited the Government to accept a direct contacts mission that should report to the CEACR. The Government received the direct contacts mission in October 2015, which was headed by an expert member of the CEACR. During its visit to Dhaka, the mission held meetings with a wide range of stakeholders and collected information on the follow-up given to the 2014 conclusions of the Conference Committee concerning the application of Convention No. 81 in Bangladesh, including the measures taken or envisaged to implement these conclusions and the difficulties encountered in addressing them. At its last session (November–December 2015), the CEACR re-examined the application of the Convention in Bangladesh.

Ecuador

31. An ILO technical mission visited Ecuador in June 2015, in response to an invitation from the Government following the discussion held in the Conference Committee in June 2014 on the application by Ecuador of the Right to Organise and Collective Bargaining Convention, 1949 (No. 98). The mandate of the mission, which initially focused on Convention No. 98, was extended, with the Government's agreement, to legislative issues raised by the CEACR in the context of the Freedom of Association and Protection of the Right to Organise Convention, 1948 (No. 87), and to matters raised by the Committee on Freedom of Association in a number of cases brought by Ecuadorean trade unions organizations. The mission's meetings with the Government, legislative and judicial bodies, and the social partners, enabled it to gather up-to-date information and views on the extent to which the Conventions in question are applied and on initiatives taken or pending to secure their application in full. The mission's report, which was sent to the country's tripartite constituents in April 2015, was brought to the attention of the CEACR at its last session (November–December 2015), when it examined the Government's reports on Conventions Nos 87 and 98.

C. Promotional activities

(a) Activities to achieve rapid and widespread ratification and effective implementation of the Maritime Labour Convention, 2006 (MLC, 2006)

32. In September 2006, the International Labour Office adopted a five-year action plan (2006–11) to achieve rapid and widespread ratification and effective implementation of the MLC, 2006. The strategic approach adopted was very successful in achieving its primary objective, and the MLC, 2006, accordingly entered into force on 20 August 2013. In so doing, it became binding international law for the first 30 Members that had registered ratifications on 20 August 2012.⁷ For Members with ratifications registered after 20 August 2012, in accordance with its Article VIII, paragraph 4, the MLC, 2006, will enter into force 12 months after the date on which the Member's ratification is registered by the Director-General. As at 31 December 2015, 70 instruments of ratification had been received and registered with a total combined gross tonnage of more than 80 per cent of the world gross tonnage.

33. In April 2014, the Special Tripartite Committee established under Article XIII of the MLC, 2006, held its first meeting and adopted a set of proposals for amendments to the Code of the Convention establishing mandatory requirements that shipowners have financial security to cover abandonment of seafarers, as well as compensation for seafarers or their families in the event of a seafarer's death or long-term disability of seafarers due to occupational injury and hazard.

34. In June 2014, at the 103rd Session of the International Labour Conference, the constituents voted overwhelmingly in favour of these amendments.⁸ They have been subsequently circulated to member States for their consideration under the "tacit acceptance" procedure provided for in Article XV, paragraph 7, of the MLC, 2006, concerning the amendment of the Code of the Convention. It is expected that the amendments adopted will enter into force in early 2017, unless there is significant disagreement by the governments of ratifying States.⁹

⁸ Adopted texts are available at: <http://www.ilo.org/global/standards/maritime-labour-convention/special-tripartite-committee/lang--en/index.htm>.

⁹ Paragraphs 7 and 8 of Article XV of the MLC, 2006, prescribe a basic formula for the entry into force of amendments to the Code under the tacit acceptance procedure:

"7. An amendment approved by the Conference shall be deemed to have been accepted unless, by the end of the prescribed period, formal expressions of disagreement have been received by the Director-General from more than 40 per cent of the Members which have ratified the Convention and which represent not less than 40 per cent of the gross tonnage of the ships of the Members which have ratified the Convention.

8. An amendment deemed to have been accepted shall come into force six months after the end of the prescribed period for all the ratifying Members except those which had formally expressed their disagreement in accordance with paragraph 7 of this Article and have not withdrawn such disagreement ...".

35. The second meeting of the STC will be held from 8 to 10 February 2016. The group of Shipowner representatives has submitted proposals for amendments regarding the renewal of maritime labour certificates. The group of Seafarer representatives has likewise submitted proposals for amendments regarding, on the one hand, pay for seafarers who are held hostage and, on the other, harassment on board ships.¹⁰

36. It is also recalled that the Subcommittee on Wages of Seafarers of the Joint Maritime Commission met in February 2014 and updated the minimum monthly basic pay rate for able seafarers. The rate was raised from US$585 to US$592 as of 1 January 2015 and will be raised to US$614 as of 1 January 2016.

37. In addition to achieving the entry into force of the Convention, the second objective of the action plan is to ensure the effective implementation of the MLC, 2006, at the national level by strengthening the capacity of maritime labour inspection systems in flag and port States, well in advance of the entry into force of the Convention in those countries. By strengthening the inspection capacity at an early stage, it is hoped that ratifying countries will be better equipped to confront the immense workload of inspecting and certifying vessels by the entry into force of the Convention in these countries.

38. In this connection, the Office has devised several training courses and workshops that are mainly delivered through the Maritime Labour Academy established by the ITC–ILO. The ILO Maritime Labour Academy, which was launched in 2011, offers a programme composed of five specialized courses (Tracks 1–5). In addition to the “Training of trainers and maritime inspectors in the application of the ILO MLC, 2006” (Track 1), four new tracks were added to focus on: governments’ legal counsels involved in the transposition of the MLC, 2006 (Track 2); shipowners, ship operators and officers (Track 3); seafarers and seafarers’ representatives (Track 4); and the cruise industry (Track 5). In addition, a sixth track for recruitment and placement services was recently developed in cooperation with partner institutions in the countries supplying manpower and the flag States employing foreign seafarers.

39. Five events have taken place since early 2015: an awareness-raising workshop for Central Africa (61 participants); a workshop for legal officers (17 participants); training of trainers and maritime inspectors (26 participants); and two awareness-raising activities for a leading operator in the cruise industry (20 participants). Since the launching of the ILO Maritime Labour Academy, 1,024 experts have been trained, including 418 maritime inspectors (Track 1). Evaluations of the activities conducted in the Academy show above-average results, and impact assessments, which are carried out on a regular basis, have shown the multiplier effect of the courses, as 11,299 new experts have been trained by inspectors who followed Track 1 in 2012.

40. The Office has also responded to requests from Members for assistance in building their capacity to carry out the legal work necessary to move towards ratifying the MLC, 2006, such as adopting a coordinated approach with ILO regional or subregional offices to support various national legal gap analyses. The Office has also provided technical assistance in the form of national workshops for tripartite constituents. For instance, a tripartite workshop took place in Côte d’Ivoire and Egypt (April 2015) and Oman (July 2015) on the main provisions of the MLC, 2006.

41. Finally, it will be recalled that, from 4 to 6 February 2015, a Tripartite Meeting of Experts concerning the Seafarers’ Identity Documents Convention (Revised), 2003

¹⁰ Information on this meeting, including the proposed amendments that were submitted, are available at: <http://www.ilo.org/global/standards/maritime-labour-convention/special-tripartite-committee/lang--en/index.htm>.

(No. 185), was held in Geneva. Having taken note of the general conclusion and the recommendations of the Tripartite Meeting of Experts, the Governing Body decided, at its 323rd Session in March 2015, to constitute an Ad Hoc Tripartite Maritime Committee and convene a meeting of this Committee, with the task of making proposals for amendments to Convention No. 185. This meeting was held from 10 to 12 February 2016.

(b) Plan of action to improve the conditions of work of fishers through the widespread ratification and effective implementation of the Work in Fishing Convention, 2007 (No. 188)

42. The 2011–16 action plan to improve the conditions of work of fishers was adopted in November 2010. A Tripartite Meeting of Experts was held from 21 to 25 September 2015 to consider guidelines for flag State inspection under Convention No. 188. Moreover, during the period January–August 2015, comparative analyses were carried out for several countries¹¹ in order to analyse their legislation and identify the provisions that might not be in conformity with Convention No. 188.

(c) Plan of action to achieve widespread ratification and effective implementation of OSH instruments (the Occupational Safety and Health Convention, 1981 (No. 155), its 2002 Protocol, and the Promotional Framework for Occupational Safety and Health Convention, 2006 (No. 187))

43. The plan of action to achieve widespread ratification and effective implementation of the three key OSH instruments was adopted by the Governing Body in March 2010 and covers the period 2010–16. In the context of the implementation of this plan of action, activities have been carried out in the form of technical assistance given to countries, and promotional tools have been developed. Technical assistance consisted of the analysis of draft legislation and legal advice from the perspective of the key OSH instruments, including gap analyses between the national legislation and practice and the Conventions concerned, and/or assistance with the formulation of national OSH policies, strategies and profiles.

44. During the last year, analysis and recommendations on draft legislation or legal advice from the perspective of OSH Conventions was provided to: Albania, Armenia, Bangladesh, Cayman Islands, Grenada, Jamaica, Pakistan, Kazakhstan, Peru and Rwanda. Technical cooperation to support the establishment of a culture of prevention on OSH issues was undertaken, through tripartite consultations, advisory services or workshops, in Afghanistan, Azerbaijan, Bangladesh, Benin, China, Ghana, Kazakhstan, Kuwait, Kyrgyzstan, the Lao People's Democratic Republic, Mongolia, Myanmar, Namibia, Nepal, Republic of Maldives, Pakistan, Occupied Palestinian Territory, Papua New Guinea, Russian Federation, Senegal, Tajikistan, United Republic of Tanzania, Timor-Leste, United Arab Emirates, Viet Nam and Zambia.

45. Technical assistance was provided by the Office, for the elaboration of national OSH policies in Chile, Ethiopia and Peru, and national OSH profiles have been developed in Bangladesh and Brunei Darussalam. Some countries, such as Singapore, Thailand and Viet Nam have been implementing the second and third national OSH programmes after reviewing the experiences of the first programme implementation.

¹¹ Guinea-Bissau, Indonesia, Kiribati, Madagascar, Namibia and the Philippines.

These are examples of good practices regarding a systemic approach to OSH at the national level.

46. In addition, in Turkey, a technical assistance project on OSH was implemented by the ILO in 2015 (continued in 2016) to facilitate the improvement of OSH in line with international commitments arising, in particular from Convention No. 155, focusing on the areas of mining and construction, in consultation with the tripartite constituents. A National OSH Profile was commissioned and discussed in a tripartite context. As a follow up to the 2014 CEACR comments on Conventions Nos 81, 155 and 161, the national system for the collection of data on occupational accidents and – in particular – occupational diseases was discussed in three workshops with the social partners and relevant stakeholders. In the area of mining, a study was commissioned to examine the contractual arrangements in the industry from a multidisciplinary perspective resulting in policy recommendations vetted in a tripartite context. On 23 March 2015, Turkey ratified the Safety and Health in Construction Convention, 1988 (No. 167) and the Safety and Health in Mines Convention, 1995 (No. 176) and gap analyses were undertaken and discussed in a tripartite context. A new technical assistance project is now being followed up and includes, inter alia: (i) the development of a training programme for the judiciary on ILO standards in cooperation with the International Training Centre of the ILO (Turin Centre); and (ii) work on the role and function of occupational safety experts and health experts as a follow up to the comments made by the CEACR in 2014 and 2015.

47. With regard to global activities, the celebration of the World Day for Safety and Health at Work, on 28 April 2015 in Turkey, focused on the theme of “Join in building a culture of prevention on OSH”, with events taking place in several countries. “International Training Course on National Programmes and Systems on OSH” was held in ILO–Turin in November to December 2014 to promote Convention No. 155, its 2002 Protocol, and Convention No. 187 and their practical application. To promote exchanging experiences among different countries, a consolidated ILO web page was inaugurated which includes all available national OSH policies, profiles and programmes. At the regional level, ASEAN workshop on the National OSH Programme was carried out in Viet Nam in 2014. The ACTRAV Symposium on the role of trade unions in the promotion of OSH in Asia and the Pacific region was also carried out in Indonesia in 2014 to promote the implementation of the plan of action.

48. Since the adoption of the plan of action (1 March 2010) until December 2015, there have been 36 new ratifications of Convention No. 155, its 2002 Protocol or Convention No. 187¹² (including eight ratifications in 2015); and 34 ratifications¹³ of other up-to-date OSH Conventions.

¹² Convention No. 155: Argentina (13.01.14), Belgium (28.11.11), Gabon (28.07.15), Grenada (26.06.12), Guyana (17.09.12), Mauritius (25.07.14), Ukraine (04.01.12) and Zambia (23.12.13). Protocol to Convention No. 155: Argentina (13.01.14), Australia (10.08.11), Portugal (12.11.10) and Slovenia (01.03.10). Convention No. 187: Albania (24.04.12), Argentina (13.01.14), Austria (20.05.10), Bosnia and Herzegovina (09.03.10), Canada (13.06.11), Chile (27.04.11), Dominican Republic (15.09.15), France (29.10.14), Germany (21.07.10), Indonesia (31.08.15), Iraq (21.12.15), Kazakhstan (03.02.15), Malaysia (07.06.12), Mauritius (19.11.12), Montenegro (18.09.15), Norway (09.11.2015), Russian Federation (24.02.11), Singapore (11.06.12), Slovenia (12.02.14), the former Yugoslav Republic of Macedonia (03.10.12), Togo (30.03.12), Turkey (16.01.14), Viet Nam (16.05.14) and Zambia (23.12.13).

¹³ Convention No. 115: Lithuania (27.05.13) and Republic of Korea (07.11.11). Convention No. 127: Honduras (13.04.12) and India (26.03.10). Convention No. 139: Republic of Korea (07.11.11) and Ukraine (17.06.10). Convention No. 161: Belgium (28.02.11), Bulgaria (01.03.12), Gabon (28.07.15) and Ukraine (17.06.10). Convention No. 162: Australia (10.08.11), Kazakhstan (05.04.11) and Morocco (13.04.11). Convention No. 167: Albania (24.04.13), Plurinational State of Bolivia (10.02.15), Gabon (28.07.15), Montenegro

(d) Plan of action towards widespread ratification and effective implementation of the governance Conventions

49. The plan of action, covering the period 2010–16, was adopted by the Governing Body in November 2009.¹⁴ In the context of its implementation, the Office actively promotes both the ratification and application of the labour inspection Conventions through needs assessments, training activities, policy advice for governments and social dialogue on labour inspection.

50. Assistance in the form of analysis and recommendations on draft legislation or legal advice from the perspective of the labour inspection Conventions was provided by the Office to numerous countries, including Armenia, Algeria, Angola, Bangladesh, Chile, Cayman Islands, Grenada, Jamaica, Kazakhstan, Pakistan and Rwanda.

51. Technical assistance activities included various activities, such as high-level meetings, tripartite workshops and training activities. Subjects that were covered included the establishment of effective labour inspection systems, labour inspection planning, labour inspection policy, exchange of labour inspection practices in different countries, the investigation of occupational accidents and diseases, building prevention culture in relation to occupational safety and health, child labour, gender-sensitive inspections, the informal economy and undeclared work, etc. Such technical assistance activities were undertaken in Bosnia and Herzegovina, Burkina Faso, China, Georgia, Haiti, Montenegro, the Occupied Palestinian Territory, Sudan, and Turkey. In addition a workshop took place in Ukraine in April 2015 on reforming the labour inspection system in the country, with a strong focus on Conventions Nos 81 and 129. A gap analysis of national law and practice with respect to Convention No. 81 for the Lao People's Democratic Republic in July 2015, with a view to facilitating the ratification and implementation of the Convention was developed and validated in the context of a tripartite workshop. Finally, a tripartite workshop to assist the Government of the Republic of Moldova in implementing Convention No. 81 was organized in July 2015, as a follow-up to a representation by virtue of article 24 of the ILO Constitution.

52. Further work to promote the ratification and implementation of the labour inspection Conventions is being undertaken within the framework of the area of critical importance on strengthening workplace compliance through labour inspection. A pilot phase has begun in three countries (Burkina Faso, Colombia and Viet Nam) with a roll-out phase foreseen to other countries and regions.

53. Since the adoption of the plan of action, there have been four new ratifications of Convention No. 81¹⁵ and five new ratifications for Convention No. 129.¹⁶ In addition,

(18.09.2015) and Turkey (23.03.15). Convention No. 170: Finland (21.01.14). Convention No. 174: Finland (28.02.13), Russian Federation (10.02.12), Slovenia (01.03.10) and Ukraine (15.06.11). Convention No. 176: Belgium (02.10.12), Mongolia (26.11.15), Morocco (04.06.13), Russian Federation (19.07.13), Slovenia (01.03.10), Turkey (23.03.15), Ukraine (15.06.11), Uruguay (05.06.14). Convention No. 184: Belgium (10.11.2015); Ghana (06.06.11) and Portugal (08.11.12)

Convention No. 122 has been ratified by eight countries ¹⁷ and Convention No. 144 has been ratified by 16 countries. ¹⁸

D. Campaign for the ratification of the Forced Labour Protocol

54. One year after the adoption of the Protocol to the Forced Labour Convention, 1930 (No. 29) and accompanying Recommendation, the 104th Session of the International Labour Conference (ILC) presented a timely opportunity to engage with and garner the support of ILC delegates for a global campaign to end modern slavery. This campaign – “50 for freedom” – led by the ILO in collaboration with the IOE and the ITUC, was launched on 12 June 2015 by the Nobel Peace Prize winner Kailash Satyarthi. It aims at promoting ratification and implementation of the Forced Labour Protocol, with the first 50 member States ratifying it by 2018. As of 31 December 2015 Mauritania, Niger, Norway and the United Kingdom had ratified the Protocol which will enter into force on 9 November 2016.

¹⁷ Convention No. 122: Fiji (18.01.10), Rwanda (05.08.10), Saint Vincent and the Grenadines (09.11.10), Switzerland (11.02.13), Togo (30.03.12), Trinidad and Tobago (19.08.13), Viet Nam (11.06.12) and Chad (05.06.15).

¹⁸ Afghanistan (07.04.10), Canada (13.06.11), Comoros (06.06.14), Ethiopia (06.06.11), Ghana (06.06.11), Honduras (12.06.12), Israel (21.01.10), Lao People’s Democratic Republic (29.10.10), Morocco (16.05.13), Panama (11.06.15), Russian Federation (18.12.14), Saint Vincent and the Grenadines (09.10.10), Singapore (04.10.10), Slovenia (29.06.11), Tajikistan (23.01.14), Tunisia (11.02.14). The Convention was also declared applicable to the non-metropolitan territory of Sint Maarten in 2013.

Specific activities undertaken in collaboration with other international organizations concerning international labour standards

A. United Nations system

55. In the context of collaboration with other international organizations on questions concerning supervision of the application of international instruments relating to subjects of common interest, the United Nations, certain specialized agencies and other intergovernmental organizations with which the ILO has entered into special arrangements for this purpose, are asked whether they have information on how Conventions are being applied. The list of the Conventions concerned and the international organizations that were consulted is as follows:

- ❑ the Indigenous and Tribal Populations Convention, 1957 (No. 107) and the Indigenous and Tribal Peoples Convention, 1989 (No. 169): United Nations (UN), Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations (FAO), Office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights (OHCHR), United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO), World Health Organization (WHO), and the Inter-American Indian Institute of the Organization of American States;
- ❑ the Radiation Protection Convention, 1960 (No. 115): International Atomic Energy Agency;
- ❑ the Social Policy (Basic Aims and Standards) Convention, 1962 (No. 117): UN, FAO, OHCHR and UNESCO;
- ❑ the Prevention of Accidents (Seafarers) Convention, 1970 (No. 134), and the Merchant Shipping (Minimum Standards) Convention, 1976 (No. 147): International Maritime Organization;
- ❑ the Rural Workers' Organisations Convention, 1975 (No. 141): UN, OHCHR and FAO;
- ❑ the Human Resources Development Convention, 1975 (No. 142): UNESCO;
- ❑ the Migrant Workers (Supplementary Provisions) Convention, 1975 (No. 143): UN, OHCHR, UNESCO and WHO;
- ❑ the Nursing Personnel Convention, 1977 (No. 149): WHO.

56. International labour standards and the provisions of the UN human rights treaties related to them are complementary and mutually reinforcing. Close cooperation between the ILO and the UN in relation to its human rights treaties is therefore an important strategy to enhance the influence of ILO standards and to ensure consistency and coherence within the UN system with regard to human rights at work. On 25 September 2015, the United Nations Sustainable Development Summit adopted the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development and its 17 Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) and associated targets anchored in the core values of human rights. In particular, Goal 8 aims at “promoting sustained, inclusive and sustainable economic growth, full and productive employment and decent work for all”. This goal not only highlights the particular significance of the Decent Work Agenda to sustainable and inclusive development and peace, but it also aligns social justice – the mandate of the ILO – and sustainable development. Furthermore, the protection of rights at work, as enshrined in the eight fundamental Conventions of the ILO and the ILO 1998 Declaration on Fundamental Principles and Rights at Work – which build on the principles recognized in the ILO Constitution – are reflected in targets associated with the Goals, with a specific focus on immediate and effective measures to eradicate forced labour, secure the prohibition and elimination of the worst forms of child labour, as well as promoting equality at work and guaranteeing equal pay for work of equal value. With regard to the elaboration of the supporting framework mechanisms that aim to effectively implement and monitor progress towards the SDGs, the ILO framework can serve as a source of inspiration as to how accountability mechanisms can work – from the global level to the national level. In this respect, the ILO supervisory machinery may contribute and be used in efforts to achieve the relevant Goals and targets associated with the accomplishment of decent work for all.

57. Within the United Nations Development Group (UNDG), the Office continued to be active in the Human Rights Working Group (UNDG-HRWG), effective as of January 2015. Its overall objective is to institutionalize human rights as a central part of the UN's development work. The ILO is represented on the UNDG-HRWG Resource Management Committee, which has approved proposals to create or extend positions for a number of human rights advisers at the country and regional levels. The ILO also continued to be active in the messaging of the UNDG-HRWG, including in the context of the 2030 Development Agenda to ensure that decent work is included as a human right and that the ILO's fundamental Conventions and supervisory bodies are clearly referred to as part of the UN human rights framework.

Cooperation with United Nations human rights treaty and Charter-based bodies

58. The Office has undertaken activities with the UN human rights bodies responsible for supervising the application of the following instruments:

- ❑ International Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights;
- ❑ International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights;
- ❑ Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Discrimination against Women;
- ❑ International Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Racial Discrimination;
- ❑ Convention on the Rights of the Child;
- ❑ International Convention on the Protection of the Rights of Migrant Workers and Members of Their Families;
- ❑ Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities.

59. The Office regularly submits reports to the different treaty bodies containing standards-related information regarding the countries examined by them. These ILO reports include information on the ratification of ILO Conventions relevant to the provisions of the respective UN human rights treaties, summaries of the findings and recommendations of the ILO supervisory bodies and information on ILO technical assistance, as appropriate. In addition, Office representatives participate in the sessions of the treaty and Charter-based bodies and provide oral advice and information on specific countries or particular subjects. The Office also contributes to specific working groups or sessions of these bodies (United Nations Working Group on discrimination against women in law and in practice, Committee on the Elimination of Discrimination against Women (CEDAW), etc.) and the general comments elaborated by these treaty bodies concerning issues that come within the ILO's remit (for example, Committee on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights, draft general comment on the right to just and favourable conditions of work).

60. The Office continues to promote international labour standards in the context of the UN Human Rights Council. With respect to the Universal Periodic Review, the Office regularly draws the attention of the UN secretariat to the available reports of the ILO supervisory bodies. The documentation prepared by the UN secretariat as a basis for the Universal Periodic Review includes information on the ratification of fundamental ILO Conventions by the country under review, as well as references to comments of the Committee of Experts. The Office also contributes to the work of the other mechanisms and mandates set up by the Council, including the work of Special Rapporteurs. In particular, in 2015, the Office contributed to the report of the United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights on the realization of the right to work.

Cooperation with other United Nations bodies and entities

61. The ILO continues to develop its relations with the International Maritime Organization (IMO). The two organizations have complementary mandates in respect of merchant shipping: the ILO is responsible for social issues and those to do with labour, while the IMO addresses other aspects. The IMO has officially recognized the MLC, 2006, as the fourth pillar of international maritime law, alongside the three IMO Conventions dealing with safety of life at sea; standards of training, certification and watchkeeping for seafarers; and prevention of pollution from ships (SOLAS, STCW and MARPOL). The IMO also encourages ratification of the MLC, 2006, by its member States. Furthermore, the ILO is working together with the International Civil Aviation Organization (ICAO) in respect of the implementation of the Seafarers' Identity Documents Convention (Revised), 2003 (No. 185), which provides that seafarers' identity documents must be in line with certain specifications established by the ICAO.

B. Council of Europe

European Code of Social Security and its Protocol

62. In accordance with the supervisory procedure established under Article 74(4) of the European Code of Social Security, and the arrangements made between the ILO and the Council of Europe, the Committee of Experts will again be called on to examine a number of reports on the application of the Code and, as appropriate, its Protocol. The Committee's conclusions on these reports will be sent to the Council of Europe. In addition, representatives of the ILO took part as technical advisers in the meeting of the Governmental Committee of the European Social Charter and the European Code of Social Security held in Strasbourg (France) in May 2015. The Governmental Committee has examined the application of the Code and the Protocol on the basis of the conclusions of the ILO Committee of Experts, which subsequently are endorsed by the resolutions on the application of these instruments in the countries concerned adopted by the Committee of Ministers of the Council of Europe. For the purpose of improving the application and supervision of the relevant provisions of the Code, the ILO undertook a review of the methodologies used by the States parties to the Code for determining the reference wage for the calculation of benefits, as well as a comparative study of the statutory provisions concerning the right of complaint and appeal in social security matters. In addition, for the purposes of evidence-based supervision of the Code the Office has developed the technical notes on the state of application of social security provisions of ratified international treaties on social rights for all 21 countries parties to the Code.

European Social Charter

63. In accordance with Article 26 of the European Social Charter, the ILO participates in an advisory capacity in the sessions of the European Committee of Social Rights responsible for supervising the application of the Charter and the revised Charter. In particular, an exchange of views with the European Committee took place at its 274th Session in September 2015 in Strasbourg (France) on the topic concerning migrant workers' rights.

Part III. Country profiles

The following country profiles provide information on the ratification and application of Conventions and on the submission of instruments adopted by the Conference to the competent authorities in a table format by country. *

The ratifications section indicates which fundamental Conventions, governance Conventions, and other Conventions a country has ratified as of 31 December 2015. It does not list Conventions which have been denounced or which are not in force.

The section on reports requested indicates how many reports were requested from the country in 2015 and how many were received. Under articles 22 and 35 of the ILO Constitution, member States are required to submit reports at regular intervals on the application of Conventions which they have ratified or declared applicable to their non-metropolitan territories. If a report requested was a first detailed report (which is required in the case of a newly ratified Convention), the number of the Convention appears in parentheses. A section is dedicated to cases discussed before the Conference Committee on the Application of Standards since 1985, as well as to cases active before the Committee on Freedom of Association.

The section on submissions indicates the sessions of the ILC of which adopted instruments have, or have not, been submitted by governments to the authority or authorities competent to consider further action, as required under article 19 of the Constitution. In 1947, at its 103rd Session, the Governing Body of the ILO decided that, as from the coming into force of the constitutional amendment of 1946, the mandate of the Committee of Experts would be extended to matters related to the constitutional obligation of submission to competent authorities under article 19 of the ILO Constitution. The Committee of Experts started monitoring compliance with this constitutional provision as of 1948, with the instruments adopted by the ILC at its 31st Session. The number of the Conventions, Recommendations or Protocols is given in parentheses, preceded by the letter “C”, “R”, or “P” as the case may be, when only some of the texts adopted at any one session have been submitted. When the ratification of a Convention was registered, that Convention and the corresponding Recommendation are considered as submitted.
